Pre-workshop Readings and Recordings

7 December 15:15–16:00 Avidnote as a tool for research (example of patent analysis) — Anne-Marie Tuikka

Patent documents are often lengthy papers with complicated, repetitious language making them laborious to read. Using Avidnote could be good tool to ease the way and saving time.

What is Avidnote?

Avidnote is a browser-based AI application designed to support research. It is developed to faciliate in the production of research documents, reading and data analysis.

More: https://utuguides.fi/avidnoteguide